Profile

Hi! My name is Arturo Guerra, I'm Full Stack Web Developer. I have IT knowledges (hardware and software), libraries and functional frameworks with different technologies, relational and no relational database, knowledge of ECMAScript's newest versions, good handling of Git and GitHub. Since university I've been interested in the IT world, which has led me to look for tools and knowledge in a self-taught way. I'm a curious person, always looking for new challenges and learning. I'm looking for new opportunities to continue developing my professional career as a Developer
